Despite the large population, China, aware of the remoteness in this situation, is pursuing the right policy, mutually beneficial and mutually beneficial cooperation, as well as the situation as a result of state and public cooperation, should be considered on the basis of materials published in the Xinhua news Agency.

To date, the only problem that concerns all States on earth is the combination of the COVID-19 coronavirus. This disease, which affects the "bone in the throat", has continued to affect the population of Uzbekistan for two months. Every day the number of cases increases. China, which has a population of 1,400,970,200 people (as of 21.01.2020) [1], was able to overcome this disease in 5 months. How? At the same time, we study the experience of the Chinese government in overcoming the disease using information provided on the website of the Xinhua news Agency.

The Chinese government has used the right policies and the will of the Chinese people to overcome this impasse. According to the Agency, at the moment, full control of the disease is established in China. It can also be seen in numbers. According to statistics (as of 10.06.2020), if in China the number of patients is 82046 people, then the number of patients treated is 78357 people [2]. Although no cure has been found, the Chinese are the first in the world to prove that they can control the virus.

An important role in overcoming this disease is mainly played by increasing the immune level in humans.

The current question is how did the Chinese government subdue the virus that dominates the world? Is it possible to stop the virus spreading in the US and European countries?

The answer to this question can be found in the materials of the Xinhua news Agency.

This virus lives a life, passing it from person to person. The Arap develops the cash register until humanity temporarily restricts contact with each other. The main weapon against the virus is quarantine.

Only quarantine can cure this disease. Restricting communication with infected people only limits the development of the virus. The quarantine measures introduced at the beginning of the year on the territory of China, over time, began to have a positive impact. As you know, the Chinese national holiday - Chinese New year-is celebrated at the beginning of the year. Despite the fact that this was very important for the Chinese, only the restrictions imposed by the state saved the Chinese state from inevitable losses [3].

The outbreak and mutation of the virus in other countries revived the world's inhabitants. The spread of the virus in South Korea and Japan and efforts to overcome the disease in these countries deserve attention. A strong economy, quick measures and disciplined actions of the population in this situation lead to the fact that the cash register wins.

Also, according to the latest data, there were no patients with COVID-19 in Hubei province for 31 days [4]. However, the Chinese government maintains that the population should continue to wear a face mask[5]. The article also notes that the public should be wary of dangerous environments, including medical facilities where patients are treated, which should be away from the circle of patients ' families, closed places such as elevators and public transport.

In an article titled "China is fighting COVID -19: facts and events " [6] Chinese State health Committee official Mi Feng said that although the situation has significantly eased, measures to combat the epidemic will continue, and cinemas and theaters in Beijing will temporarily be unable to continue operating.

The Chinese experience has helped Uzbekistan fight the COVID -19 epidemic. At the invitation of the government of Uzbekistan, from April 17 to 28, a Chinese medical team of 15 people brought with them "Chinese experience" and medical devices that have a long history on the Silk road, contributing to the fight against the coronavirus epidemic in this country [7], according to other information. This medical group is doctors from the Chinese city of Nanchang who give them the quality of "warriors" returning from the previous line of fighting the COVID -19 epidemic. "There are a number of rules that are studied and generalized during clinical practice in the field of medical protection. I want to share them with colleagues from Uzbekistan, " said Yang Zheng, a senior nurse at the first hospital of Nanchang University. At the emergency medical center in Samarkand, Yang Zheng demonstrated how to wear a protective suit and decide, and explained the basic requirements for examining patients.

Commenting on the results of the conference, associate Professor of the Department of Chinese language and literature of the Tashkent state University of Oriental studies Ismat Bekmurotov noted that China is not only successfully fighting the coronavirus epidemic on its territory, but also increasing international cooperation, providing assistance to many countries and international organizations, including Uzbekistan. At the same time, I am. Bekmurotov believes that the Chinese experience in the fight against COVID-19 gives mental food to representatives of various Sciences, including the public.

Application of Chinese practice in Uzbekistan:

Uzbekistan has also taken urgent measures. Including,

- A quarantine zone for 10,000 people is being built on 55 hectares [9]. Later, the hospital will be able to accommodate more than 20 thousand people. The rooms have all the necessary facilities: TV, air conditioning, electric kettle, hot and cold water, shower, toilet.

- Measures have been taken to immediately quarantine the population [10]. In order to ensure the sanitary and epidemiological well-being and safety of the population in the Republic of Uzbekistan, to organize coordinated activities of state and economic management bodies and organizations responsible for preventing the spread of coronavirus infection, to protect the life and health of citizens, regular flights between all countries of the world and the Republic of Uzbekistan have been suspended. Also,

On the territory of the Republic of Uzbekistan, all entertainment facilities and business activities have been suspended. Suspended all kinds of events, suspended the educational process in public higher education institutions, secondary schools, special, out-of-school and pre-school educational institutions and all private educational institutions and a number of other measures aimed at preventing the spread of coronavirus infection.

- In order to create legitimacy for the population, some tax benefits were canceled [11]. on March 19, this year, the Decree of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan “on priority measures to mitigate the negative impact of the coronavirus pandemic and the global crisis on the economy” was adopted. The document takes into account the proposals of the state tax Committee to reduce the tax burden for individuals and businesses in connection with the quarantine against the spread of coronavirus (COVID - 19) in the country. Thus, the decree approved a number of tax incentives and benefits.

- Work is being done on the ground to help people in need of social assistance. Social assistance is provided to low-income families, the elderly, the unemployed, as well as to persons who do not have a permanent job and are unable to work during the day due to quarantine. The person who called the center must give their name, place of residence, and phone number. The received information is checked again. Phones in the centers can be called daily from 9: 00 to 17: 00. After the quarantine was declared, dozens of independent volunteer groups have been set up in Uzbekistan to provide assistance to the elderly and disabled.

Solidarity and cooperation are the most powerful weapons in the fight against epidemics that affect human security in all countries.
